

Why are paramedics protesting?

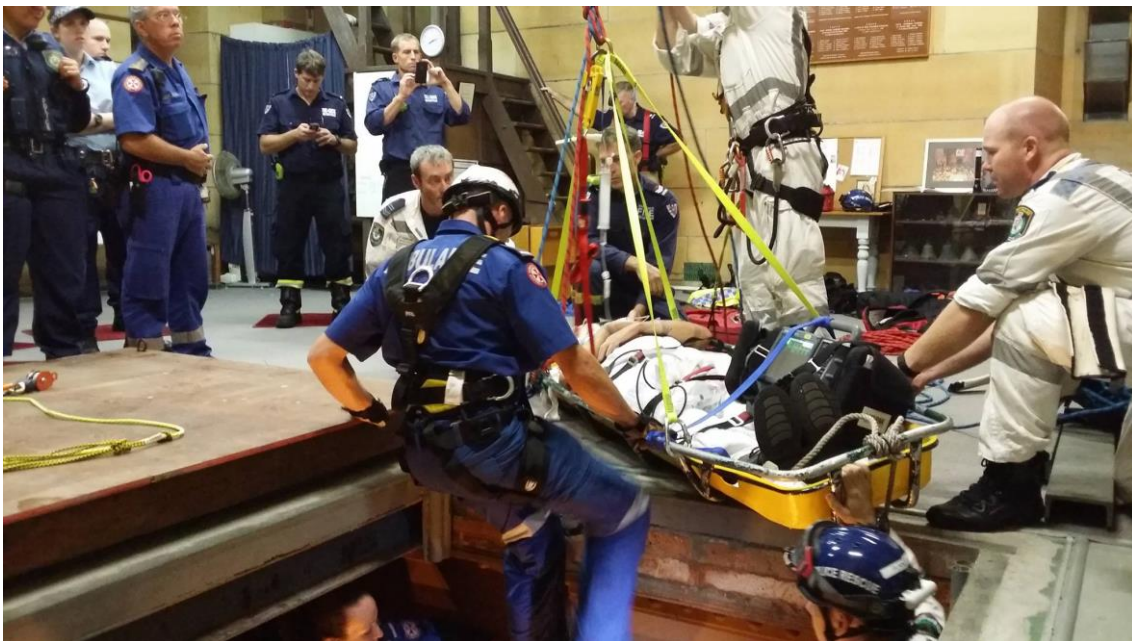

NSW Paramedics spend years of study and training to do the job we love. We are proud of our important role serving the community.

However, the nature of the job comes with many risks. One in five of us will be injured every year. Amazingly we are injured at twice the rate as NSW Police.

Insurance companies either refuse to insure us or charge premiums that we cannot afford.

Sometime ago we negotiated a fair employer based protection scheme.

Now the Baird Government has reneged and stripped our Death and Disability protections by up to 80%. We only receive around 25% of the protections that Mr Baird currently provides NSW Police.

We are calling on your support. Please contact your local Member of Parliament and ask them to support NSW Paramedic's fight to restore adequate protections.

Authorised by Gerard Hayes, Secretary HSU NSW

