Severe burn preparedness

REGISTER
NOW!

This event will have two presentations related to severe burns.

MICA flight paramedic Cat Mackay will discuss two burns case studies to highlight the importance of preparedness in paramedicine and pre-hospital practice when you never know what it is you're actually preparing for.

Nick Roder, MICA flight paramedic educator, will discuss the widening scope of practice for the ICP to capture patient cohorts that lie at the fringes of well-defined research that supports pre-hospital RSI. He will discuss a patient with airways-burns to understand if we are applying best practice in this low frequency, high acuity trauma.
