Dear Firstname,

RE: Liverpool Redevelopment Project

Liverpool Hospital is currently undergoing a redevelopment. As part of the hospital redevelopment, our pathology laboratories and office areas will be relocated to a new building.

When will this change occur?

The redevelopment is expected to be completed in 2024 when we are also expected to move to the new building.

Who is involved in the Liverpool Pathology changes?

This project is managed by key operations and clinical staff based in Liverpool, the local Human Resources team, and the Planning & Design team from our Head Office in Newcastle. The project is referred to as the 'Redevelopment' and is in response to the Liverpool Hospital Redevelopment Project.

How will this affect me?

All NSW Health Pathology employees, services and equipment currently located at Liverpool Hospital will be moved to the new Pathology site by the expected project end date in 2024. Liverpool Pathology are currently located across four levels – Basement, Ground Floor, Level 1 and Level 2. In the new building, all Pathology departments will be located on Level 3 only. The move includes all Laboratory, Administrative, and Support Staff.

What changes can I expect?

New ways of working

- Hot desking environment
- One shared tearoom
- One level for all Pathology staff and processes

Workflow Management

- The floor layouts, benches and analyser placements will be created to allow efficient workflow.
- Analysers will be placed to reflect laboratory processes, and to increase workflow efficiencies.

Proposed Team Changes

- A new centralised CSR function will be available to all departments.
- Dedicated training of staff to streamline laboratory processes & support staff development.

What happens now?

The Human Resources team will be sending regular updates on the Redevelopment.
