

Psychology Update November 2022

Dear Member,

Your Union's Psychology Committee has had a busy month in October with much progress being made to improve industrial conditions for you.

The primary project of Award reform continues. The Committee has finalised the major issues and opportunities for Award reform which was tabled at a state-wide member meeting on 9 November. The wider membership had a chance to discuss and endorse the key issues which allows the Committee to prioritise the development of proposed changes on these key areas which are fully endorsed from the membership.

The Committee has also established a working group to focus on improving membership within psychology and engagement of current members. The Committee recognises the need to build sustainable and effective structures as we move to a greater campaign for improved industrial conditions.

During the November meeting updates were also provided about:

- Your Union's new process for assisting members with personal regrades applications.
- Your Union's discussions with the Ministry on the application of the team leader allowance for psychologists and clinical psychologists.

If you have something you'd like the Committee to discuss or wish to join the Committee, please email Blake.Adair-Roberts@hsu.asn.au
