

Time to Change The Rules: Bomaderry Meeting

Dear Member,

The HSU encourages all members employed in the Illawarra and Shoalhaven to attend the meeting at Bomaderry Bowling Club this Thursday night at 6:30pm – please RSVP via the link below. Let's get active and change the rules together for improved pay and conditions as well as fairer workplaces. See you there!

The Change the Rules campaign is coming to you.

Time and time again, generations of Australian workers have come together to stand up against injustice, inequality and greed – and on the 31st May the Secretary of the Australian Council of Trade Unions, Sally McManus, and the Secretary of Unions NSW, Mark Morey will launch the Change the Rules campaign in your area.

The Change the Rules campaign started because the system is broken, and big business has too much power.

Over the last 30 years, Australians have been told that if we give money to big business, it will trickle down to workers. This has left us with the legacy of inequality at a 70-year high.

Despite company profits booming, one third of big businesses didn't pay any tax. That's money stolen from all of us. And now, the top 1% own more than the bottom 70% of Australians.

More than ever before, we need a Government that puts working people before big business.

We need a Government that believes in secure jobs, enforcing workers' rights, and gives working people the ability to win fair pay rises.

In unity,

Gerard Hayes
Secretary, HSU NSW/ACT/QLD
