Illawarra/Shoalhaven DOMs have lifted the industrial action in good faith

The majority of ADHSU Members in the Illawarra/Shoalhaven DOM group have agreed to cease the industrial action as a show of good faith, to ensure discussions can continue in relation to their roster proposal.

NSW Ambulance have agreed to meet with the Illawarra/Shoalhaven Inspectors next week and will be reviewing the practice of using on call resources to deal with hospital delays.

The resolve shown by the Illawarra/Shoalhaven DOM group needs to be commended. They have stayed strong and shown NSW Ambulance that they need to be treated with respect. While this is not a complete resolution to the problem, our members have voted to recommence discussions with NSW Ambulance Executives to ensure a roster that supports their staff is implemented as soon as possible.
