

Solidarity action in support of Public Hospital Security campaign

Dear Member,

Well done to those members who responded to our survey asking ADHSU Private Sector members their preferred form of solidarity action.

The majority of respondents chose both wearing stickers for the shift and displaying a campaign sign on the dash of the car. Please print out the image in this link and display it on the dash.

This campaign matters.

As you know, the NSW Hospital system has a spiralling problem with violence and other aggression where we've seen examples of health workers, patients and visitors being shot, stabbed, spat on, and abused daily with no end in sight.

HSU has seen countless meetings, roundtables, reviews, promises to do better, with absolutely zero result.

Until we see an immediate injection of 250 well trained and supported security staff, we know that the violence will be left to escalate until police can respond.

Good luck tomorrow showing solidarity with the hospital community.

In unity,

Gerard Hayes
Secretary, HSU NSW/ACT/QLD
