

Lavery will come back to the table – but with what offer?

Dear Member,

Today the Health Services Union received correspondence from Lavery Pathology CEO Tim Blanche confirming that Lavery Pathology will come back to the bargaining table with a new offer. The details are yet unknown, though Lavery Pathology has committed to providing a new classification structure.

Lavery employees stood united.

After months of stalling we are now back to the negotiating table because Lavery employees remained united. Over the last couple of weeks, the HSU collected hundreds of signatures on the petition calling on management to come back to the table with a fair pay offer. And now, because of you, we are back at the table.

Let's make sure Lavery knows we mean business.

Lavery Pathology has requested a meeting on 14 August. Let's make sure they know we mean business. If you know someone who hasn't signed the petition yet, send them a copy – there's one attached. Lavery Pathology needs to know that when they come to the table, their pay offer better be good.

In unity,

Gerard Hayes
Secretary, HSU NSW/ACT/QLD
